

Bell companies operate an "essential facility", and should be required to ccommodate other ISP firms that wish to purchase access from them at a reasonable price. This lets them make money while providing an opportunity for local ISPs that will take care of their consumers in their own communityies. The Bell Companies can be the wholesaler and the competition will be benefit us, the consumers.